FOR FACILITATORS

Send the relevant section below 2-3 days before each session. Given this stage's five-session length, pre-work matters more than in shorter stages for keeping momentum — and Session 5's pre-work specifically requires bringing forward a document from Session 3.

Before Session 1: Workplace Fundamentals

WHAT TO DO BEFORE THIS SESSION

- No advance preparation required. If you're currently in a new role or internship, bring one real question you still have about workplace expectations.

WHY THIS MATTERS

This session builds foundational awareness and habits. The only real preparation is arriving with a genuine current or recent workplace experience to reference.

Before Session 2: Navigating Workplace Situations

WHAT TO DO BEFORE THIS SESSION

- Identify one real professional boundary you've been avoiding stating, for use in FIRST T12.

WHY THIS MATTERS

Having a specific, real boundary in mind rather than a hypothetical one makes this session's exercises genuinely more useful.

Before Session 3: Performance & Professional Identity

WHAT TO DO BEFORE THIS SESSION

- Identify one trusted colleague or peer you could genuinely ask for honest reliability feedback, for use in FIRST T22.

WHY THIS MATTERS

FIRST T22 requires a real conversation outside the session. Having a specific person in mind means you can act on it right away.

Before Session 4: Ethical Foundations & Responsibilities

WHAT TO DO BEFORE THIS SESSION

- Reflect on one real ethical difficulty you've faced, even a minor one, for use in FIRST T27.
- This session covers more emotionally weighted material than Sessions 1-3 — come with that expectation.

WHY THIS MATTERS

Having a real (even small) ethical moment in mind grounds the session's more abstract concepts in genuine experience.

Before Session 5: Applied Ethics & Integrity Reflection

WHAT TO DO BEFORE THIS SESSION

- Bring your Professional Standard Statement from FIRST T25 — it's directly referenced again in FIRST T41.
- This is the final session of the stage; come ready to reflect back across all five sections, not just this one.

WHY THIS MATTERS

FIRST T41 asks you to honestly compare your recent behavior against your own stated standard — you'll need the actual statement in front of you.
