Stage Nine • English Vocabulary First Set

FOR FACILITATORS

Send the relevant section below 2-3 days before each session. This stage's pre-work is lighter than most — no accounts or devices required — but a couple of sessions genuinely benefit from a small mental head start.

Before Session 1: Core Vocabulary Building Blocks

WHAT TO DO BEFORE THIS SESSION

- No prior vocabulary knowledge required or expected. Just arrive ready to speak and write, not just read.

WHY THIS MATTERS

This is the entry point to the whole stage. The only real preparation is a willingness to actively produce language, not just recognize it.

Before Session 2: Written & Documentation Vocabulary

WHAT TO DO BEFORE THIS SESSION

- Bring a real email, report, or set of meeting notes you've written recently — you'll use it as practice material throughout this session.

WHY THIS MATTERS

Practicing on your own real writing, rather than a hypothetical example, means what you build today is immediately usable.

Before Session 3: Meeting & Verbal Communication Vocabulary

WHAT TO DO BEFORE THIS SESSION

- No special preparation, but know that this session is entirely spoken, pair- and small-group-based practice — expect to be talking for most of the session.

WHY THIS MATTERS

This session's vocabulary only becomes real through spoken practice; arriving mentally ready to talk (not just listen) matters more than any written prep.

Before Session 4: Presentation & Persuasion Vocabulary

WHAT TO DO BEFORE THIS SESSION

- Think of a short topic (2–3 minutes) you could speak on with minimal preparation — real or lightly improvised is fine.

WHY THIS MATTERS

Having a topic ready means session time goes to practicing vocabulary, not searching for something to talk about.

Before Session 5: Self-Presentation & Networking Vocabulary

WHAT TO DO BEFORE THIS SESSION

- No special preparation required. This is the shortest session in the stage.

WHY THIS MATTERS

This session moves quickly through first-impression vocabulary; no prep is needed beyond being ready to introduce yourself, more than once.

Before Session 6: Problem-Solving & Growth Vocabulary

WHAT TO DO BEFORE THIS SESSION

- Bring to mind one real, current challenge (work, school, or personal) you'd be comfortable discussing at a high level.

WHY THIS MATTERS

Practicing this vocabulary against a real example, rather than a hypothetical one, makes the language genuinely stick.
