FIRSTS • Completion Criteria & Credential Trigger

Stage Six • Communication: Speaking, Reading & Writing

PURPOSE

This document defines exactly what “complete” means for Stage Six, at both the individual FIRST level and the full-stage level, and how completion connects to the program's credentialing system. Given this stage's genuine size (seventy FIRSTS across two Templates parts), the facilitator sign-off process below is explicitly built around sampling rather than exhaustive review — reviewing all seventy worksheets in full depth per participant isn't a realistic standard to hold facilitators to, and pretending otherwise would undermine the standard rather than strengthen it.

Per-FIRST Standard

STANDARD

A FIRST counts as complete when the corresponding Templates worksheet (Part 1 or Part 2) has a genuine, specific answer in every required field, and for FIRSTS involving a real recording (I5, I21, I27) or real external interaction (I41, I67, I69), when that action has genuinely been taken and reflected on, not just planned.

Stage-Level Completion Checklist

- All 70 Templates worksheets completed with genuine, specific answers (see per-FIRST standard above), across both Part 1 and Part 2.
- Attendance or async completion confirmed for all 6 sessions.
- At least two completed self-recordings (from FIRST I5 and I21 combined) with genuine reflection on what was noticed in playback.
- At least one real difficult conversation practiced, live or role-played (FIRST I42 or I64), with a documented reflection.
- One specific, documented communication goal (FIRST I34) and one completed weekly challenge (FIRST I68), showing the systems from Session 6 were genuinely applied, not just planned.

Facilitator Sign-Off

Given the volume of this stage, the facilitator should sample-check rather than review all seventy worksheets in full detail — spot-check a genuine cross-section (at least 2–3 per section) for specificity, and confirm the recording and real-conversation requirements above were genuinely met, before marking the stage complete in the program tracker.

Credential Trigger

HOW THE BADGE WORKS

Upon facilitator sign-off, the participant's record is marked "Stage Six Complete" in the program tracker, which triggers the Stage Six digital badge. As with every stage, badges accumulate visibly; the full-program certificate is issued only once all 16 stages are marked complete.
