FOR FACILITATORS

Send the relevant section below 2-3 days before each session. This stage's pre-work is about arriving with real people and situations already in mind — the exercises are far more useful applied to something specific than something hypothetical.

Before Session 1: Leadership Foundations

WHAT TO DO BEFORE THIS SESSION

- Bring to mind one leader you genuinely respect and one authority figure you don't, for use in FIRST P1.
- If your program uses a leadership style assessment, complete it before the session so FIRST P2 can start from a real result.

WHY THIS MATTERS

This session moves quickly through real examples and reflection — arriving with specific people and a completed assessment in mind means more time for genuine discussion, less for recall.

Before Session 2: Leading & Developing People

WHAT TO DO BEFORE THIS SESSION

- Identify one person you currently lead, mentor, or coach in any capacity, formal or informal.
- Think of one difficult feedback conversation or team conflict you've genuinely been avoiding.

WHY THIS MATTERS

Before Session 3: Advanced & Reflective Leadership

WHAT TO DO BEFORE THIS SESSION

- Think of one person you need to influence without formal authority over them, for use in FIRST P22.
- This is the final session of the stage; come ready to close with a leadership philosophy and a real, forward-looking development plan.

WHY THIS MATTERS

Having a specific person and situation in mind turns FIRSTS P21–P23 from an abstract exercise into something immediately actionable.
