PURPOSE

This document defines exactly what “complete” means for Stage Thirteen, at both the individual FIRST level and the full-stage level, and how completion connects to the program's credentialing system. Because this stage's real value depends on genuine team application, not just individual reflection, the standard here explicitly checks for that application, not only worksheet completion.

Per-FIRST Standard

STANDARD

A FIRST counts as complete when the corresponding Templates worksheet has a genuine, specific answer in every required field, and for FIRSTS requiring genuine team application (Q2, Q4, Q5, Q13, Q27 among others), when the exercise was actually applied to a real or temporary working team, not completed purely as individual reflection.

Stage-Level Completion Checklist

- All 30 Templates worksheets completed with genuine, specific answers (see per-FIRST standard above).
- Attendance or async completion confirmed for all 3 sessions.
- Genuine application to a real or temporary team confirmed for the core team-based exercises, particularly the Working Agreement (Q4), Collaborative Planning (Q5), and Retrospective (Q27).
- A specific, named commitment to one team practice, recorded at the Stage close (FIRST Q30).

Facilitator Sign-Off

The facilitator reviews each participant's completed Templates workbook and confirms, through direct observation during team-based exercises and brief self-report for anything that happened outside session time, that the stage's core practices were genuinely applied to real collaborative work, not completed as purely hypothetical or solo reflection.

Credential Trigger

HOW THE BADGE WORKS

Upon facilitator sign-off, the participant's record is marked "Stage Thirteen Complete" in the program tracker, which triggers the Stage Thirteen digital badge. As with every stage, badges accumulate visibly; the full-program certificate is issued only once all 16 stages are marked complete.
